

This weekend:

I have quite a few students, who decided skipping pages in math book is ok,

The pages that are a must (star pages) and affect the grade were posted in the photo

Next weeks review will be on Language, Spelling

I also have quite a few students behind on submitting history assignment Minibook on Chapter 15

I might decide to make the art class optional for the following groups of students:

- 1) for the students very much behind on math and having a heavy load during the week frequently,
- 2) struggling with learning gaps in reading, which makes them work through assignments slower than average,
- 3) students with a lot of testing missed due to a lot of absence.

They can stay in our classroom with the teacher and have extra time to work on their assignments

Next week

Math flash cards $\times 9$, $\times 11$, $\times 12$, $\div 9$, $\div 11$, $\div 12$
